Dear Dr. Mark Emmert,

Please read the players' response to your letter below - Ramogi Huma, NCPA Executive Director:

"Thank you for responding to our meeting request. We are disappointed that you intend to delay this important conversation for at least two weeks. From our perspective, it's difficult to imagine any higher priority you may have at this time than addressing concerns that are at the core of state and federal college athletes' rights legislation, an upcoming US Supreme Court ruling on college athletes' economic freedoms, and the NCAA's ongoing discriminatory treatment of female basketball players in its tournament. Can you please explain what you will be doing over the next two weeks that is more important than addressing these matters?

In addition, we are disappointed with your apparent attempt to narrow the participation of this meeting to only the three of us. To be clear, we are requesting a meeting with you that will also include other men's and women's basketball players as well as NCPA Executive Director Ramogi Huma so that we have someone present who is an athlete advocate with expertise in these areas.

We look forward to receiving confirmation that you will meet with the group we have described, and that you will demonstrate on behalf of your organization and membership that these issues are in fact a priority by meeting with us by Friday of this week.

Sincerely,

Geo Baker
Jordan Bohannon
Isaiah Livers"
