Sorry it has taken me so long to get back to you! Check this out: <http://ctbusiness.ctdata.org/#/starts-and-stops> and Michelle Riordan-Nold from the Data Collaborative is probably the best person to ask questions to: mrn@ctdata.org

One thing that you should be aware of is that business stops aren't a great metric of businesses actually closing – most of the stops are businesses that we close administratively and don't really know at what point they stopped existing, and businesses don't always (read: not very often at all) remember to close their business with us when they actually go out of business.

Thanks,

Gabe
