FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of entry 04/21/2013

DZHOKHAR TSARNAEV, date of birth 1993, was interviewed at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, 330 Brookline Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts 02215.

REDACTED

On the day of the Boston Marathon, JAHAR and his older brother, TAMERLAN, drove from Cambridge to Boston in JAHAR's car around 2:30 p.m. JAHAR and his brother were the only individuals in the vehicle. Both JAHAR and his brother had a backpack containing an explosive device. JAHAR carried a brown backpack while his brother's backpack was black. After parking, they walked approximately five minutes to spots very close to the Marathon finish line. Each of them decided on their own where they would stop near the finish line and place the backpack containing the explosive device. JAHAR could not remember whether he or his brother was closer to the finish line. Just before detonating his device, JAHAR placed a call to his brother with the other device to try to synchronize the two detonations. After JAHAR put his backpack down, he walked away and detonated the device using a button. He used a trigger mechanism built according to the instructions in the Inspire Magazine articles.

JAHAR stated that there were no other attacks planned, there were no unaccounted devices, and the only individuals involved in the attack planning and execution were JAHAR and TAMERLAN.

JAHAR did not warn any of his friends to stay away from the Marathon because he didn't care if they got hurt. JAHAR only reached out to Baudy to see what people thought of the bombings. JAHAR used the iMessage feature of his phone to contact Baudy.

REDACTED

JAHAR stated that he and his brother constructed two explosive devices in his brother's home at 410 Norfolk, Apartment 3, Cambridge, Massachusetts. The devices were easy to build, because instructions were available in a copy of Inspire magazine the two downloaded from the Internet. JAHAR and his brother used powder to build the bombs. The powder came from fireworks purchased about one year ago in New Hampshire. Both JAHAR and his brother traveled to New Hampshire to purchase the fireworks. JAHAR did not know why his brother purchased the fireworks, but indicated that they did not buy many fireworks during their trip to New Hampshire.

REDACTED

No one else participated in the attacks
- JAHAR and his brother built the two devices and planned the attack alone.
