Tom,

Thank you. Additionally, San Mateo has two that we should borrow for this event, and SF has four. We have deployed them before. Check with Juraj on who would be best to contact for both agencies to utilize them for the SB50 activities. All of the LPRs talk to our system, so we would like to work with the committee to deploy these trailers.

Thanks,
Karen

Server is up and operational, I have about [REDACTED] other ALPRs that synchronized successfully today. I suggest contacting [REDACTED] support, there may be some sort of software update these trailers need, or other issue with the connected computer?

If 3M needs server access, I'm happy to provide that.

If there's ever a concern that the server is down, please try logging into BOSS [REDACTED]

If you can get in there, then everything is likely up centrally and the issue is with the trailer or endpoint.

I'll let both Juraj and Tom Rayl know in our equipment unit that you are looking to place a trailer into [REDACTED] so he holds one upon its return etc, thanks stay safe, Ken Course there are several options for you to choose, NCRIC has [REDACTED] portable ALPR trailers that look like speed signs and function that way as well, they are solar powered but if they can be placed near an alternate power source they will of course last longer than the average 5 at period, bottom line I they are available but very often loaned out to other agencies for similar reasons that you require one. Once approval is obtained on your end please let Sean O'Donnell or I know and we can enter your request on the NCRIC website for this equipment on your behalf etc, just let us know we're here to help. Once approval is obtained as you mentioned, we can easily facilitate the placement of ALPR trailers with our NCRIC covert equipment crew, no problem.
