Last evening, we received notification that a Windham High School student posted the following message on their Twitter feed:

“If administration at Windham High School continues to treat students the way they are, they’re asking to be the next Columbine.”

Upon receiving notification from the Windham Police Department and school administration we immediately acted upon the seriousness of the statement.

Police found and located the source of the post. RSU 14 removed the source from the school environment.

We want to thank students, parents and community members who brought this to our attention to allow school and law enforcement to swiftly address this incident.

School administration and the police are following up on this matter today. Each are working to ensure that the building continues to remain a safe and welcoming place for our entire school community.

Sincerely,
Sanford J. Prince IV, Superintendent
Chris Howell, Principal, Windham High School
