CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Suzanne-Juliette Mobley, Karen Savage, and Victor Onuoha (“Plaintiffs”), by and through their attorneys, on behalf of themselves and on behalf of all others similarly situated, bring this Complaint against Defendants as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. This is a civil action for declaratory relief, injunctive relief, penalties, and monetary damages under the Fair Housing Act, as amended, (42 U.S.C. §§ 3601 et seq.), and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. §§ 2000e et seq.) to redress discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, familial status, and national origin.

2. Defendant Facebook is a social-networking site that boasts more than one billion users worldwide, making it the largest online social network in the world. As alleged more fully below, Facebook has operated and is operating an advertising platform (“Ad Platform”) that publishes, and causes to be published, discriminatory and illegal housing and employment advertisements. By clicking on a button labeled “Exclude People,” ad buyers—here Doe Defendants 1-9,999—can prevent their ads from being displayed to users matching characteristics such as “African American (US),” “Asian American (US),” or “Immigrant.”

3. This lawsuit does not seek to end Facebook’s Ad Platform, nor even to get rid of the “Exclude People” mechanism. There are legal, desirable uses for such functionalities. Plaintiffs seek to end only the illegal, proscribed uses of these functions.

4. Defendants’ conduct should be declared unlawful and enjoined, and appropriate penalties and monetary damages should be awarded.

II. THE PARTIES

5. Plaintiff Karen Savage is a resident of New York City, New York. She is a reporter and is in the process of getting a degree in journalism from the City University of New York. She is a Facebook user and a single, divorced mother of four children. In the past year, she has undergone a search for housing and a search for employment, and in the course of doing so has looked at Facebook advertisements.

6. Plaintiff Victor Onuoha is a resident of Gretna, Louisiana. He is an African-American mental health counselor. In the past year he has undergone a search for housing and a search for employment, and in the course of doing so has looked at Facebook advertisements.

1 7. Plaintiff Suzanne-Juliette Mobley is a resident of New Orleans, Orleans. She is African-
2 American and a Community Engagement Manager. She is a divorced mother of one child. In the past
3 year, she has undergone a search for housing and a search for employment, and in the course of doing
4 so has looked at Facebook advertisements.

5 8. Defendant Facebook, Inc. (“Facebook”) is an American corporation, headquartered at 6 1601 Willow Road, Menlo Park, California, 94025, incorporated under the laws of the State of 7 Delaware, with California registered agent for service of process of Corporation Service Company—
8 d/b/a CSC – Lawyers Incorporating Service, 2710 Gateway Oaks Drive, Suite 150N, Sacramento, 9 California, 95833. Facebook owns and operates an online social networking website that allows its 10 users to communicate with each other through the sharing of text, photograph, and video. Part of 11 Facebook’s website is an Ad Platform that allows users to pay money to have Facebook display 12 advertisements to other users.

13 9. Doe Defendants 1 to 9,999 are entities that have used Facebook’s Ad Platform to illegally 14 discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, familial status, or national origin, with 15 advertisements for employment or housing.

16 III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

17 10. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1345, 42 U.S.C. §§ 1983, 1988, and 3613(a), this Court
18 has original subject matter jurisdiction over the claims of Plaintiffs and the Class that arise under the Fair
19 Housing Act, and Civil Rights Act of 1964.

20 11. Further, this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this putative nationwide class action
21 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332, as amended by the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005 (“CAFA”), because 22 the matter in controversy exceeds $5,000,000.00, exclusive of interest and costs, and is a class action in 23 which some members of the Class are citizens of states different than Defendant. See 28 U.S.C.
24 § 1332(d)(2)(A). Therefore, both elements of diversity jurisdiction under CAFA are present, and this Court 25 has jurisdiction.

26 12. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Facebook because Facebook owns and operates a
27 business that is headquartered in California, and because it conducts substantial business throughout 28 California.

29 13. Venue properly lies in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1), as Facebook is 30 headquartered in this district.

31 14. Venue is also proper in this district pursuant to Facebook’s Statement of Rights and 32 Responsibilities, which governs the agreement between Plaintiffs and Facebook and which states in

1 pertinent part that Plaintiffs “will resolve any claim, cause of action or dispute (claim) . . . relating to . . .
2 Facebook exclusively in a state or federal court located in Santa Clara County.”

3 IV. LEGAL BACKGROUND

4 A. Fair Housing Act

5 15. The Fair Housing Act, 42 U.S.C. 3601 et seq., declares that “[i]t is the policy of the 6 United States to provide, within constitutional limitations, for fair housing throughout the United 7 States.”

8 16. To this end, among other prohibitions, the Fair Housing Act provides that “it shall be 9 unlawful . . . (c) To make, print, or publish, or cause to be made, printed, or published any notice,
10 statement, or advertisement, with respect to the sale or rental of a dwelling that indicates any 11 preference, limitation, or discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, . . . familial status, or 12 national origin, or an intention to make any such preference, limitation, or discrimination.”

13 17. The Fair Housing Act is a “broad remedial statute” that courts “generously construe.”
14 City of Edmonds v. Wash. St. Bldg. Code Council, 18 F.3d 802, 804 (9th Cir. 1994).

15 B. Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

16 18. Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 provides that:

- 17 a. “It shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer— (1) to fail or refuse to 18 hire or to discharge any individual, or otherwise to discriminate against any individual 19 with respect to his compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment,
20 because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin; or (2) to limit, 21 segregate, or classify his employees or applicants for employment in any way which 22 would deprive or tend to deprive any individual of employment opportunities or 23 otherwise adversely affect his status as an employee, because of such individual's race, 24 color, religion, sex, or national origin.” 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-2(a).
- 25 b. “It shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employment agency to fail or refuse 26 to refer for employment, or otherwise to discriminate against, any individual because of 27 his race, color, religion, sex, or national origin, or to classify or refer for employment any 28 individual on the basis of his race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.” 42 U.S.C. § 29 2000e-2(b).
- 30 c. “Except as otherwise provided in this subchapter, an unlawful employment practice is 31 established when the complaining party demonstrates that race, color, religion, sex, or 32

1 national origin was a motivating factor for any employment practice, even though other
2 factors also motivated the practice.” 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-2(m); and,

- 3 d. “It shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer, labor organization,
4 employment agency, or joint labor-management committee controlling apprenticeship or 5 other training or retraining, including on-the-job training programs, to print or publish or 6 cause to be printed or published any notice or advertisement relating to employment by 7 such an employer or membership in or any classification or referral for employment by 8 such a labor organization, or relating to any classification or referral for employment by 9 such an employment agency, or relating to admission to, or employment in, any program
10 established to provide apprenticeship or other training by such a joint labor-management 11 committee, indicating any preference, limitation, specification, or discrimination, based 12 on race, color, religion, sex, or national origin, except that such a notice or advertisement
13 may indicate a preference, limitation, specification, or discrimination based on religion, 14 sex, or national origin when religion, sex, or national origin is a bona fide occupational 15 qualification for employment.” 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-3(b).

16 V. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

17 A. Facebook’s Advertising Platform

18 19. Facebook generates the majority of its revenue through the sale of advertising to 19 organizations and individuals. In the second quarter of 2016 alone, Facebook generated $6.239 billion 20 in advertising revenue.

21 20. As set out in more detail below, Facebook’s advertising platform allows advertisers to 22 target and exclude specific Facebook users to see their advertisements. This targeting and exclusion is 23 based on Facebook users’ “affinity” groups, which Facebook uses to identify a person’s ethnic, gender
24 and other affinities based on their Facebook activity. A user’s affinity may be determined by their 25 Facebook profile and interactions with organizations and other users on Facebook.

26 21. Based on a user’s affinity groups, Facebook builds a profile of that user that is then used 27 to determine, among other things, the advertisements the user is exposed to.

28 22. Facebook describes “affinity” as: “a relationship like a marriage, as a natural liking, and 29 as a similarity of characteristics. We are using the term “Multicultural Affinity” to describe the quality
30 of people who are interested in and likely to respond well to multicultural content. What we are 31 referring to in these affinity groups is not their genetic makeup, but their affinity to the cultures they 32 are interested in. The Facebook multicultural targeting solution is based on affinity, not ethnicity. This

1 provides advertisers with an opportunity to serve highly relevant ad content to affinity-based 2 audiences.”

3 23. Affinity groups act as a proxy for characteristics such as a user’s race, gender, family
4 status and national origin. Many of them are specifically classified as “demographics” and track
5 traditionally protected groupings (e.g., “African American (US)” and “Asian American (US).”)

6 B. Facebook’s Advertising Platform Enables Illegal Discrimination

7 24. Facebook’s Ad Platform (found at <https://www.facebook.com/business>) allows for illegal
8 discrimination in two steps.

9 25. First, Facebook’s Ad Platform
10 allows ad buyers to target their ads to specific 11 users seeking employment or housing. (See 12 Figure 1.) Targeting can be done by 13 “demographic,” “interest,” or “behavior.” For 14 example, the Ad Platform allows targeting of an 15 ad to the demographic “Renters”, or to users who 16 have expressed an interest in or like pages related 17 to “Buying a House,” “Job interview,” or “Job
18 hunting.”

19 26. Second, it allows ad buyers to click
20 a button labeled “Exclude People” to prevent the ad
21 being shown to certain sets of users, (see Figure 1)
22 including users protected by the Fair Housing Act and 23 Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (see Figure 2). As Facebook’s Advertiser Help Center
24 explains,¹ the platform “offers advanced features like the ability to exclude certain characteristics from 25 your target audience.”

26 27. Among the “characteristics” that can be excluded are “African American (US),” “Asian 27 American (US),” and four categories of “Hispanic (US).” The platform also allows exclusion or 28 targeting based on familial status, by excluding demographics: “Divorced,” “Parents (All),” and 29 “Expectant parents.” It also allows exclusion based on sex by allowing exclusion of “Moms.” It allows
30 exclusion based on religion by excluding users who are part of the interest categories of “Christian,”

32 down menus, allowing illegal discrimination. (Source: ProPublica.)

1 “Muslim,” or “Sunni Islam.” And it allows exclusion based on national origin by allowing exclusion
 2 based on “Expat (All),” which is defined by Facebook as “People whose original country of residence
 3 is different from the current country/countries selected above.”

4 28. There is no option in Facebook’s platform to exclude the “demographic” of White or 5 Caucasian Americans from the target audience.

6 29. Table 1, below, is a non-exclusive list of the characteristics on Facebook’s ad platform
 7 that can be targeted to tailor an advertisement for housing and employment.

31 ² Categories Facebook identifies as “Demographic” are unitalicized. Categories Facebook identifies as “Interests”
 32 and “Behaviors” are italicized.

Being Indian	Stay-at-home moms	Expectant parents	Shinto	Expats (Senegal)

31. The content Facebook users see on their Facebook newsfeed is individualized based on their user profile, including any affinity group Facebook has labeled them with. Any user that is excluded from an advertisement based on one of the above affinity groups will not see the excluded advertisement on their Facebook page.

32. There is no mechanism to prevent ad buyers from purchasing ads related to employment/housing and then excluding based on these illegal characteristics. For example,

³ “Expats (All)” has the description: “People whose original country of residence is different from the current country/countries selected above.”

⁴ “Expats (Mexico)” has the description: “People from Mexico living abroad.” All the other “Expats” follow this formula.

1 journalists Julia Angwin and Terry Parris Jr. of ProPublic purchased an advertisement targeted to 2 Facebook members who were house hunting and excluded anyone with an African-American, Asian-
3 American or Hispanic “affinity.” The advertisement was approved by Facebook fifteen minutes after 4 they placed the order.

6 33. Facebook has publically committed to removing “an ad from our platform if the 7 government agency responsible for enforcing discrimination laws tells us that the ad reflects illegal
8 discrimination.” But no user can tell whether they are subject to illegal discrimination, because the 9 discrimination occurs with the ads they do not see. As a result, the problem will not be remedied
10 unless Facebook is forced to take additional action.

11
12 34. This lawsuit does not seek to end Facebook’s Ad Platform, nor even to get rid of the 13 “Exclude People” mechanism. There are legal, desirable uses for such functionalities. Plaintiffs seek 14 only to end the illegal, proscribed uses of these functions.

15 CLASS ALLEGATIONS

16 35. Plaintiffs bring this nationwide class action, pursuant to Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of 17 Civil Procedure, individually and on behalf of all members of the following Class:

18 All natural person Facebook users located within the United States who have 19 not seen an employment- or housing-related advertisement on Facebook
20 within the last two years because the ad’s buyer used the Ad Platform’s
21 “Exclude People” functionality to exclude the class member based on race, 22 color, religion, sex, familial status, or national origin.

23 36. Not included in the Class are the following individuals and/or entities: Facebook and its 24 parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, officers and directors, current or former employees, and any entity in 25 which Facebook has a controlling interest; all individuals who make a timely election to be excluded 26 from this proceeding using the correct protocol for opting out; any and all federal, state or local 27 governments, including but not limited to their departments, agencies, divisions, bureaus, boards, 28 sections, groups, counsels and/or subdivisions; and all judges assigned to hear any aspect of this 29 litigation, as well as their immediate family members.

30 37. Plaintiffs reserve the right to modify or amend the definition of the proposed Class before 31 the Court determines whether certification is appropriate.
32

1 38. The Class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Upon information
2 and belief, there are more than 156 million Facebook account holders in the United States. The 3 number of separate individuals who are members of a protected class and used Facebook within two 4 years before the filing of this action is likely in the millions, and is identifiable and ascertainable based 5 on Facebook’s records.
6

7 39. There are questions of law or fact common to the Class. These questions include, but are 8 not limited to, the following:

- 9 a. Whether Facebook has caused to be made, printed, or published any notice, statement, or 10 advertisement, with respect to the sale or rental of a dwelling or employment that 11 indicates any preference, limitation, or discrimination based on race, color, religion, 12 family status, or national origin.
- 13 b. Whether Doe Defendants have caused to be made, printed, or published any notice, 14 statement, or advertisement, with respect to the sale or rental of a dwelling or 15 employment that indicates any preference, limitation, or discrimination based on race, 16 color, religion, family status, or national origin.
- 17 c. The amount of statutory damages that should be levied against Facebook and Doe
18 Defendants;
- 19 d. Whether injunctive and/or declaratory relief against Facebook and Doe Defendants 20 should be awarded;
- 21 e. Whether Facebook and Doe Defendants’ conduct was unlawful; and 22 f. Whether Plaintiffs and Class Members are entitled to restitution.

23 40. Plaintiffs’ claims are typical of the claims of the Class in that Plaintiffs and the Class
24 used Facebook. Each of the Class Members was shown ads on Facebook that depended on the choices
25 the ad buyers made through the Ad Platform, including whether the ad buyer chose to use the 26 “Exclude People” button. Facebook and Doe Defendants further used or endeavored to use the 27 contents of Plaintiffs’ and Class Members’ profile information and Facebook activity to generate ad
28 preferences for Plaintiffs and identify Plaintiffs with particular affiliate groups. Plaintiffs and Class
29 Members are entitled to declaratory relief, penalties, statutory damages, restitution, and injunctive
30 relief as a result of the conduct complained of herein. Moreover, upon information and belief, the 31
32

1 conduct complained of herein is systemic. Thus, the representative Plaintiffs, like all other Class
2 Members, face substantial risk of the same injury in the future. The factual basis of Facebook and
3 Doe Defendants' conduct is common to all Class Members, and represents a common thread of 4 conduct resulting in injury to all members of the Class.
5

6 41. Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class. Plaintiffs' interests
7 do not conflict with the interests of the Class Members. Furthermore, Plaintiffs have retained
8 competent counsel experienced in federal and civil rights litigation. Plaintiffs' counsel will fairly and 9 adequately protect and represent the interests of the Class. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4) and 23(g) are 10 satisfied.

11 42. Plaintiffs assert that pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3), questions of law or fact 12 common to the Class Members predominate over any questions affecting only individual members.
13

14 43. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication
15 of this controversy. Arguably no Class Member could afford to seek legal redress individually for the 16 claims alleged herein. Therefore, absent a class action, the Class Members will continue to suffer
17 losses and Defendants' misconduct will proceed without remedy.

18 44. Even if Class Members themselves could afford such individual litigation, the court
19 system could not. Given the complex legal and factual issues involved, and considering that the Class 20 could number in the tens of millions or greater, individualized litigation would significantly increase 21 the delay and expense to all parties and to the Court. Individualized litigation would also create the 22 potential for inconsistent or contradictory rulings. By contrast, a class action presents far fewer 23 management difficulties, allows claims to be heard which may otherwise go unheard because of the 24 relative expense of bringing individual lawsuits, and provides the benefits of adjudication, economies
25 of scale and comprehensive supervision by a single court.
26
27

28 45. The prosecution of individual actions by Class members would establish inconsistent
29 standards of conduct for Defendants.
30
31
32

1 46. Defendants have acted in ways generally applicable to the Class, thereby making 2 appropriate final and injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with regard to members of 3 the Class as a whole.

4 47. The names and addresses of the Plaintiff putative class members are available from 5 Facebook. To the extent required by law, notice will be provided to the prospective class members via 6 first class mail and/or by use of techniques in a form of notice that has been used customarily in 7 collective actions, subject to court approval.

8 48. Defendants' conduct as described above is unlawful, is capable of repetition, and will
9 continue unless restrained and enjoined by the Court. The problem has been brought to Facebook's 10 attention by the press, and they have shown no indication of intent to change the functionality of the 11 Ad Platform.

12 49. In the event that Class Members are not eligible for class certification under the federal 13 rules, they request class certification under California law.

14 CAUSES OF ACTION

15 COUNT ONE

16 (Violations of the Fair Housing Act)

17 50. This claim incorporates all of the above.

18 51. Plaintiffs and Class Members are members of groups protected by the Fair Housing Act.

19 52. Through its Ad Platform's "Exclude People" function, Defendant Facebook has made, 20 printed, published, and caused to be published, advertisements with respect to sale or rental of 21 dwellings that indicate preference and discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, familial 22 status, and national origin.

23 53. Through the Ad Platform, ad buyer Doe Defendants have made, printed, published, and 24 caused to be published, advertisements with respect to sale or rental of dwellings that indicate 25 preference and discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, familial status, and national origin.

26 54. Through the functioning of and publication upon Facebook's Ad Platform, these 27 discriminatory advertisements have been withheld from Plaintiffs and Class Members based on 28 discriminatory selections under "Exclude People" by Doe Defendants. As a result, Plaintiffs and Class
29
30
31
32

1 Members were harmed by not having the same opportunities for housing as Facebook users who were 2 not discriminated against.

3 COUNT TWO

4 (Violations of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964)

5 55. This claim incorporates all of the above.

6 56. Plaintiffs and Class Members are members of groups protected by Title VII of the Civil 7 Rights Act of 1964.

8 57. Through its Ad Platform’s “Exclude People” function, Defendant Facebook has made, 9 printed, published, and caused to be published, advertisements with respect to employment that 10 indicate preference and discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, and national origin.

11 58. Through the Ad Platform, ad buyer Doe Defendants have made, printed, published, and 12 caused to be published, advertisements with respect to employment that indicate preference and 13 discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, and national origin.

14 59. Through the functioning of, and publication upon, Facebook’s Ad Platform, these
15 discriminatory advertisements have been withheld from Plaintiffs and Class Members based on 16 discriminatory selections under “Exclude People” by Doe Defendants.

17 60. As a result, Plaintiffs and Class Members were harmed by not having the same 18 opportunities for employment as Facebook users who were not discriminated against.

19 JURY DEMAND

20 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 38, Plaintiffs, individually and on behalf of the Class
21 they seek to represent, demand a jury on any issue so triable of right by a jury.

22 PRAAYER FOR RELIEF

23 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and all Class Members, request judgment be 24 entered against Defendants and that the Court grant the following:

25 1. An order determining that this action may be maintained as a class action under Rule 23
26 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, that Plaintiffs are proper class representatives, that Plaintiffs’
27 attorneys be appointed Class counsel pursuant to Rule 23(g) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and 28 that Class notice be promptly issued (or under California law in the alternative);
