Here's an idea. Carry a 1911 mag in the empty pouch so you can reload for me after I kill the first 8 black guys

I just finished taking my 1911 completely apart, down to the last screw and spring, cleaning it, and putting it back together. It was pain in my assholes. That thing can be such a drama queen when it comes to putting all the pieces back together.

And stars and bars grips on your 1911. So that way you can tempt a chimp to chimp out and then you get to shoot him.

For coolness, literally. That's how it is justified. And also the fact that it's highly accurate and I wanted an accurate pistol. The 1911 is a better reflection of my style than a glock, and if I sold the glock then I could clearly afford a 1911.

I also train with my modern holsters. I'm pretty fast with shoulder holster (as fast as that will allow, it's intrinsically a slow spot to draw from) but I can't seem to get my IWB with 1911 draw down. If I go fast, the gun always gets caught on the front sight. It seems like the only thing I can do is "slow is smooth and smooth is fast" in regards to 1911 IWB.

Actually what makes my freedom boner hard is that it was specifically designed by Browning at the behest of the Army to kill brown people, cause the .38 new service wasn't killing brown people dead enough.

"1% of the people in this country keep the wealth that the 99% create!"
"80% of Americans have no healthcare!"
"Weapons of war have no business on our streets!"

Basically they're saying "take from everyone who has money and give it to impoverished niggers. Also everything should be free and ALSO take the guns away."

This isn't an undue concern, but I would argue that sliding on fabric is much more important. This is because in a scenario that would require you to use this little buttholer to save your life, a bad draw due to poor rubber/fabric interaction probably equals ur ded. The most important thing is a smooth fast draw and then you focus on dumping that tiny magazine into an oily negro. Plus when are your hands ever sweaty besides the gym. Mine may get clammy but this is sufficient to grip even those plastic grips on my 1911.

Well I knew that but I'm just so impressed at how accurate our 1911s are out of the box. They were at least as accurate if not more accurate than Raj's 34, although apparently the 34 is massively improved if you add a match barrel.

The thing is, a choice between a pistol and a rifle is one of utility, not of escalation of force. It's a lateral movement of force to switch from pistol to rifle. You use a rifle because it's a better weapon in quite literally every way than a pistol in a life or death scenario. Would you use a butter knife to cut your bread? No, you would use a bread knife. But neither is particularly massively more effective than the other.	Yes

Doesn't that make you mad? Like here we are, honest hard working white men who work for every dollar we have and we lift and take care of our bodies and try and live life by a code of masculinity. We are the salt of the earth. And some girls would turn their noses right up at us because we don't have much money. They rather go hang out with a skinny ghetto ass nigger that deals drugs and steals shit because he can bring in thousands a month.

I'm done letting these smelly uneducated ignorant monkeys claim that shooting peaceful officers that don't pose any immediate threat to anyone is justified. If they get to do that then I need to make black parents huddle with their scared black chimpanzee children in a dark corner of their house, hoping and praying that I pass them by without killing every firstborn black in the neighborhood.

Here's an idea. Carry a 1911 mag in the empty pouch so you can reload for me after I kill the first 8 black guys

I just finished taking my 1911 completely apart, down to the last screw and spring, cleaning it, and putting it back together. It was pain in my assholes. That thing can be such a drama queen when it comes to putting all the pieces back together.

For coolness, literally. That's how it is justified. And also the fact that it's highly accurate and I wanted an accurate pistol. The 1911 is a better reflection of my style than a glock, and if I sold the glock then I could clearly afford a 1911.

And stars and bars grips on your 1911. So that way you can tempt a chimp to chimp out and then you get to shoot him.

I also train with my modern holsters. I'm pretty fast with shoulder holster (as fast as that will allow, it's intrinsically a slow spot to draw from) but I can't seem to get my IWB with 1911 draw down. If I go fast, the gun always gets caught on the front sight. It seems like the only thing I can do is "slow is smooth and smooth is fast" in regards to 1911 IWB.

Actually [REDACTED] it was specifically designed by Browning at the behest of the Army to kill brown people, cause the .38 new service wasn't killing brown people dead enough.

I mean, on the one hand, George Zimmerman is an idiotic buffoon, but on the other hand, he shot someone in defense of his life and was rightfully cleared of any wrongdoing. Anyways I guess it's cool that the gun Im getting has been proven to kill black guys in a single shot

Cause I sensed a disturbance in the force. Apparently somewhere in America, a black person was riding in the front of a bus.

And I could not abide that. So I couldn't go back to sleep

Ok wait

Did you fucking here what happened in ferguson.

Again

As hundreds of people gathered to mark "Michael Brown's" death gunfire erupted they shot up 3 squads cars (2 unmarked) and it looks like they killed a few people as well...

So they gathered to commemorate his death but then they got mad and chimped out and shot up some squadcars?

"Black lives matter!"
"1% of the people in this country keep the wealth that the 99% create!"
"80% of Americans have no healthcare!"
"Weapons of war have no business on our streets!"

Basically they're saying "take from everyone who has money and give it to impoverished niggers. Also everything should be free and ALSO take the guns away."
