1	83	2/21/2017	A CA in a residence hall wrote to UR Report to report anti-Semitic graffiti - a swastika -that was found on a billboard. The image had been covered up, a report had been made to the UMPD, and the UMPD removed the swastika and filed a report.	A BRRN member wrote back saying the appropriate process had been followed and that this would be included in our incident report.
2	84	2/22/2017	A student wrote to U Report stated that they had been treated in a biased way by the bus driver on a campus connector by the way he gave her instructions for getting on and off the bus. She believes this behavior was racist in intention.	The BRRN will record the incident and reach out to Parking and Transportation Services (PTS) to discuss possible next steps with the driver. The reporter was asked if they wanted anything else to happen and has not responded. Update: PTS will look into this incident and report back what they learn
3	85	2/22/2017	A student reported that on the campus connector another unidentified student made the universal "monkey face" at her because of her darker skin.	The BRRN asked whether the student required any resources - including OSCAI, if the student is aware of the person's identity and would like to make a report.
4	86	2/23/2017	An employee reported receiving hateful, intimidating, sexist and racist email messages to her campus email account after being interviewed.	BRRN encouraged the employee to contact UMPD if she feels unsafe or continues to receive hateful or threatening emails. BRRN advised the employee that EOAA is available to investigate whether (1) those who sent the messages are members of the University community, and if so if (2) any University anti-harassment policies have been violated.
5	87	2/27/2017	A staff member requested resources that might help their college develop recommendations to students, faculty and staff who may be confronted with individuals vocally promoting ideas ideas that support hate and bias on campus, while protecting the free speech rights of the individuals who make up our University community.	A BRRN member reached out to the staff member for more information and to determine in what ways we may be able to assist.

6	88	2/27/2017	A staff member reported their office had received a phone call where caller immediately launched into a complaint that their office is holding "White Privilege" seminars and he disapproves and that it's Jewish privilege that needs to be stopped. The call was allowed to go on for a long time, but the staff member did not speak. The caller finally hung up. The staff member learned that other offices have received similar calls.	The staff member did not want to do any follow-up, but rather wanted this recorded in the incident log.
7	89	2/27/2017	A staff member from Admissions wrote to share emails (without identifiers) from two prospective students, both of whom were withdrawing their application to the U because of the rise in anti-Semitism and concerns about the climate. The staff member asked for concrete examples of what the University is doing to address this issue.	A BRRN member provided a list of actions being taken in the wake of the rise of anti-Semitic incidents. The Admissions staff member was very appreciative and will follow up with the prospective students.
8	90	3/2/2017	A photo was taken of "KKK" scratched into a sculpture outside McNamara.	BRRN reported the incident to McNamara . McNamara reported the sculpture is curated by Weisman. It is a new drawing (see incident # 32). McNamara covered it with a sign and the Weisman is working to have it repaired.
9	91	3/1/2017	A patron reported a swastika on the wall of a Coffman men's restroom.	A police report was filed and the swastika was removed.
10	92	3/4/2017	A young, white male in a car yelled "Nice evening for a walk, pussies" to an interracial couple as they left Ruttan Hall at 7 p.m.	The couple wanted the incident to be documented by the BRRN.
11	93	3/9/2017	A CUHCC patient reported that CUHCC has removed all the bilingual signs in the dental patient waiting area and restrooms.	BRRN contacted CUHCC administration to report concerns. Also referred reporter to EOAA if he would like to pursue investigation.
