

JAN 16 AT 6:53 PM

Forgive me, but I genuinely can't determine if you take exception to something that was posted. With all the bluster and hyperbole being tossed about that group today, it's hard to discern if your comment was in jest or not. I just want to make sure nothing I've said has come across in an unintentional way

They accepted your request.

Mr. Haddock, I like your personality and I feel contributing towards that behavior isn't appropriate. I know you mean well. I would like to learn more about you.

What behavior exactly, and in what way was I contributing?

JAN 16 AT 8:40 PM

Good luck tomorrow, Mr. Weber.

MAR 24 AT 12:48 PM

I highly suggest you make a public apology for your comment.

Hi Brett. which comment?

Sean Weber
Brett Haddock - have you stopped beating your wife?

I don't think its funny Stephen Daniels, that was from a female that lives in our community. I am an advocate for supporting victims of domestic violence and reporting domestic violence. I wouldn't wish that kind of fear on anyone. Brett, "are you dodging the question?"

MAR 24 AT 2:38 PM

please be specific. What are you having an issue with.. the loaded question response, or correcting Stephen when he made a joke of the female expressing her concerns. I don't think its funny Mr. Haddock.

Merely asking a loaded question like that belittles actual plight by victims of domestic violence. It's an inappropriate and abhorrent comment to make, period.

Your correction to Stephen, in context, gives the appearance to third party observers that your question was asked because you have received information from a "female in the community"

I've stated all of this publicly, but you continue to try and dodge accountability.

MAR 24 AT 3:02 PM

If you take messages out of context, maybe... if you read it correctly, the phrase is a known term of art and a text book response to loaded questions. I didn't make it up. You on the other hand, continue to gang up on me and attack me, while I've never done anything to you. If you want to discuss this further, I am willing to sit and meet with you. Otherwise, pound sand.

It is still a wildly inappropriate comment, regardless. Completely tasteless. I'm sorry you feel like I've ganged up on you. All I've done is try to hold you accountable for your actions. You bully people constantly, then cry foul when they push back. Then your fall back is always "sitting and meeting" to discuss things, knowing full well no one will take you up on the offer. That's cowardice, pure and simple. If you recall your comments to me back in January, where you tried to claim I had engaged in some level of "unethical" behavior, then couldn't back it up or even remotely explain it. You're a bully, and a con man Mr. Weber, and I won't sit idle if you continue this abhorrent behavior.

And if you really want an in person conversation, let's set it up. We can either do Stephen's podcast together, or we can arrange to have the whole thing recorded either on video or audio. I'll only have conversations with you on the record. So let's set it up, when do you want to have an on the record conversation?

MAR 24 AT 3:29 PM

Maybe you should have gone to school. I wonder how many conflicts arise out of you not getting a formal education. This is a perfect example — you throw around accusations and assumptions with no accountability. You're not relevant enough for me to publicly make you relevant on fakenews. You're not a has been, you're a never was, never will be. — Hide behind a keyboard if you will. Still not even a care about the female in our community. You just want attention and will do anything to get it. Conflicts are best resolved face to face, one on one, NOT behind a keyboard, though you're just a script kiddie... <-- term of art too. — Im holding back, so keep going.

Back to attacking, straight from your playbook. I've remained consistent in everything, the variables here are on your side Mr. Weber. I'm happy to meet you in person, on the record. Audio or video recording every word said between us. We can even live stream it, just name the date and time, let's do it

What if you actually comprehended what I wrote? Imagine.. though you're apparently too stubborn to try. Still ignoring the girl, thats the problem... I'm being straight forward with you, if you consider that attacking then you should stop now.

Back to deflecting

Your arguments are nothing but incoherent ramblings, interspersed with accusations in an effort to somehow attach an action or position to me as you avoid accountability for your statements. it's clear you have a problem with me, I'm not sure what it is other than calling you out for your bullshit. I'll leave you to go back to googling my name late at night. When you want to actually have an civilized discussion in person, and on the record, let me know.

When I first met you, you were rude. Without even knowing me.... i mentioned I knew some of your family (that supported you) and you were dismissive of them... Like you could care less about your family. — you can continue making accusations.... you will never get enough votes to be elected.. start by making friends in our community, as it appears you know 5 people including your family and my ex. — I'm learning all about you... you know the dentist says?

My apologies if I came off as rude, that was not my intention, and I certainly didn't mean to come across as dismissive. You approached me at a busy city council meeting and interrupted a discussion between myself and a couple other people.

Actually you were introduced to me, so interruption isn't appropriate. That family and I go way back. So it matters.

Pry into me all you want, there's nothing to find. Go to the Los Angeles county court and pull the documents from the lawsuit involving the dentist, it's all public record. I'd love to hear what the dentist has to say, by all means make it public.

Do you know anything about me, or are you just grasping at straws?

Well I don't recall the interaction proceeding that way, so either way please accept my sincere apology. I did not mean to be dismissive.

I'm not grasping at anything here, it seems you are the one trying to leverage something. To what end, I cannot fathom.

i know exactly what you said... you said you barely knew him, and he is like your biggest supported. thats so sad.

you started messaging me, not the other way around

I disagree with your recollection of events, but nothing I can say or do will change that it seems.

If i remember specially what you said, and would not know those details otherwise, it makes it hard to be a false memory. You can't even be real ... thats either delusional or some other issue.

Again you know nothing about me, yet you want to attack me. Very sad. Very, very sad

Sir, I only attack your actions. Nothing more, nothing less. It's clear you have some genuine issues here that I cannot possibly resolve. So I apologise for anything I might have done to give you the impression of being dismissive, that wasn't my intention. And I'm sorry if I came across in that fashion.

Lots of statements... I'm not going to publically post these comments as i don't want to hurt people... you honestly should step back and ask yourself if you brought things upon yourself.

Please, go public with every little thing you have. I'll happily discuss everything out in the open. Let's have it.

You were a jerk the other night... and you continue to be attempt to mock me. -- i don't care enough about you to have it out for you. Maybe if you knew who i was, you would show some respect.

I honestly have no response to that. I called you out for your actions as I have seen them. You deflected and escalated things. You have nothing on me, and your futile efforts to get under my skin continue to fail. You subscribe to an alternate reality Mr Weber, one which facts are unwelcome. Clearly there is no reasoning with you, so I implore you, continue to try and dig up "dirt" on me, go public with everything you find, and continue to make accusations and baseless attacks on my character.

I promise you, that if you want to take me on with the same tactics you use with other people, you will lose. NO man is above the LAW and I'm better at your skill set than you are.

I'll say it again, you're a bully and a con artist, nothing more, nothing less. Name a date and time for our on the record conversation. Anything beyond that, as you said, pound sand.

con artist? how you figure?

another great accusation by Brett.

Alright Mr. Weber, it's been fun but you don't scare me. Have at it. Good luck in all your future endeavors.

exactly -- all bullshit -- call me a con artist... then can't back it up... you contact me -- so bug off like the parasite you are.

Have a nice day Sean.

exactly - lol - see you around.

you can have the last word-- apparently you don't know when to stop.

You've got nothing, and will only look like more of an ass than you already do, so by all means continue on your current path. I'll just watch from the sidelines. Good day sir.

But when you actually do what to have that in person conversation you so desperately claim to want, let me know, I'll set it up.

I bet this is how you get into trouble, when someone says no, you keeping going.

Hey, you're the one that keeps requesting to take things in person, I'm just obliging, albeit with terms that incidentally you refuse to agree to. But that's your prerogative. I'm just a fan of people being held accountable for their words and actions, something you seem to have a problem with.

DO you know what I do for a living? I wonder if your employer knows they pay you to sit on social media all day.

Maybe if you knew what i did for the last 15 years you would shut up.

Have a nice evening, Mr. Weber.

you don't --- maybe i should contact them.

Go for it, I'm recovering from surgery, I really don't think they'll mind how I spend my time off.

Again, have a nice evening.

you don't know what i do for a living, nor what i've accomplished yet call me a con man... tread carefully.

You don't scare me in the least. Whatever you've got, bring it. Please, I encourage it. Make everything you can find on me public, let's have a dialog. Let's set up that conversation, you can ask me anything, we'll talk about anything you want. All on the record, and in the open. Make it happen. Until then, you're an internet troll, a bully, and a con man. I'm using that phrase specifically, you are a con man. A charlatan. A snake oil salesman. I'll defend that statement publicly.

But for now, I'm done with this conversation. Good day sir.

in your eyes... but who are you? you're just a hater, not trying to learn, just wants to hate... making every attempt to be relevant.

Alright, have a nice day.

such a waste. good evening

Congratulations... i went from not knowing you.. to knowing you're a coward. Keyboard warrior strikes again.

Ask your gf how she knows me. That should be an interesting conversation. lol

Did you get the apology you wanted? You won't get this luxury again. Take care

Brett, all jokes aside. Im sure you are a good person. And i really don't have anything against you.. Just please stop staring shit. I more than likely will not be running in the next election as i have other ambitions. I do really care about the people in this town. If you meet anyone that really knows me, they would consistently say that I'm the biggest hearted people that know, i also don't take shit from anyone. If you are going to come at me with nonsense.. I'm going to mess around back... I sincerely hope you get to know me, as I will always have deep ties to this community. Sorry, if I was a little too harsh. Have a good night.

You don't get to post how you walk your attacks back Sean. You attacked me, pure and simple. You threatened to report me to my employer, you made inappropriate comments about my girlfriend, and for what? The simple fact is I called you out in your bullshit, and by doing so you feel I'm attacking you without cause. I call people out for their actions all the time. Never do I attack the person, just what they're saying or doing. Your response is abhorrent, atrocious, uncivilized, and unhinged. You present yourself as certifiable. After flying off the handle and making egregious statements, you back pedal. Every single time, and this conversation is no different.

no because your relentless messaging for hours

hours

I know exactly who you are. And if you continue, the world will know too.

i honestly thought to myself -- this guy has a job and spends hours upon hours sending me messages daily

i work online -- you are disturbing me. i already told you that how many times...-- yet -- you want conflict -- that's not the way to be relevant -- there are better ways i also know your girlfriend.

so have a good night. please stop messing me .. as I'm going to ignore you now.

All right Sean, I'll bite. How do you know my girlfriend?

APR 10 AT 8:29 AM

Good morning Brett. I care about our community, not creating drama with you or anyone else. If you would like to be included, please stop making personal drama between us, as it's one sided and I have no problems with you, only your actions by attempting to manufacture issues that don't exist. -- that being said, i still value your opinion, as you do live in this community. I again, just don't want your weird drama.

Sean, I have nothing personal against you, and I'm sorry if anything comes off as an attempt to "create" drama. That's not my intention.

APR 10 AT 8:57 AM

Okay. Well now you are not being honest. You just posted something online about me. You have been posting and writing inflammatory posts and blog articles, especially when I hear it from others. You have made accusations of me being a con artist, with no basis, just an attempt to hurt third party business relationships. That is called tortious interference, which carries punitive damages. -- not going to sue you as you don't have any assets and it's not my style. -- you just need to understand that on all levels what you are doing is illegal and unethical. -- I'll add you to the group. But if you start causing more drama. I'm not interested. Agreed?

I promise to only make statements of fact, backed up with verifiable evidence, and thoroughly vetted by my lawyer, in an effort to discuss relevant local issues and people, for the greater public good.

APR 10 AT 9:16 AM

Provide the verifiable evidence (thoroughly vetted by your lawyer) showing that I am, in fact, a con artist.

First, how do you know my girlfriend? You still haven't answered that one

APR 10 AT 9:39 AM

Brother. I have to work to do today. I'm not going to spend my day responding to you. So please understand my lack of response isn't ignoring, I'm working. -- i looked into your question and I believe it was your ex.

All right, whenever you get a chance then explain who you think you know, and how you think know them. Take your time.

APR 10 AT 1:07 PM

Brett. Provide the verifiable evidence (thoroughly vetted by your lawyer) showing that I am, in fact, a con artist. Your words, not mine. Or dodge it. Either way. I don't want drama. I'm a problem solver, not a problem starter.

APR 10 AT 1:29 PM

Will do. I'll have the article fully written with all the evidence, and I'll submit it to you for official comment prior to it being published.

APR 10 AT 1:53 PM

You just don't know when to stop. Please do not contact me again via messages, emails, posts, articles, in person. I want nothing to do with you. I can't be any more clear. I think you are a sociopath and need help. Please leave me alone. This is draining and only meant to cause more drama. Get a life.

You asked me to provide you with the evidence, I told you I would. It will be published, along with the entire exchange between you and I in these messages. You'll be given the opportunity to comment, up to you to take that opportunity or not, and I won't respond to your messages until I ask for your comments.

APR 10 AT 2:49 PM

Another day of Brett. I know what I have gone through to be the person I am today. I'm hard working, and made many personal sacrifices in order to chase my dreams. While I may have transgressions, I wouldn't change my past, because it can't change and because it made me who I am today. I'm pretty open and don't have secrets, so your drama isn't news. — I don't have any enemies, as I often forgive people too easily and I am usually the first to apologize in order to make things right. I don't want to block you. So if you could just leave me alone, instead of having a bullseye on me, it would be appreciated. Find someone else to torment, troll, bully, whatever you do; this hostility gives anyone anxiety. Honestly, seek help instead. I wouldn't wish this persistent effort by you on anyone, now months of your creating drama for me. PLEASE STOP WITH YOUR DRAMA. - I don't want to get attorneys or investigators involved, as it is the last resort to problems. I have no problems with anyone including you. — If you are willing to drop all of our nonsense. I will completely forgive you and work with you. If not, PLEASE do not contact me again.

APR 12 AT 4:57 PM

Hi Sean, I have some questions I would like your official comments on.

In your KHTS Radio Interview, you stated "Over the last 10 or 15 years [...] I helped with the homeless shelter that they have out here [...]"

- 1) What precisely did you do at the shelter?
- 2) How many hours did you spend at the shelter?
- 3) During what time period(s) did you "help"?

Also in the KHTS Radio Interview, you stated "Also within the last year I met with Hart High School to discuss with them active shooter or active threat problem that we're getting to be more familiar with [...]"

- 1) What precisely did you discuss with administrators at Hart High?
- 2) What was the end result of your discussions?
- 3) Were you directly involved in any new/modified procedures or implementation of new/modified systems?
- 4) During what time period(s) did this take place?

I'm not going to do anything with it, I'm done. You're on your own, and I'm not going to interfere. Good luck.
