Ha 😁

There are only 4 big firms these days...

I worked for E&Y right out of college

If you have six figures for an audit perhaps that money of your members would be better spent as contributions to their HSA's.

Merry Christmas Joe!

I will spend more and if required I will call one of the top 8 accounting firms to do an audit

You have not answer the question when those new wage adjustments are to go into effect for none union employees

Whatever.

MyCPA's are much more qualified than you or Joe and I respect their work and all the awards recognizing that work they received from the state auditor and FTA. So please spend more of your members hard earned wages on your ghost hunt. Joe's family should have the best Christmas ever thanks to you!

Have a nice day.

I have requested Joe Pass

To obtain the financial documents and advise and compare past budget and year end financial

Personally I do not believe the picture you are showing

The past and current information does not support you position

Additionally you made no comment of those pay evaluation the board approved . I am still awaiting for the consultant report

We just can not trust you number
