You asked me last week about whether there was a nexus between the LE approach in this case and DA's work. I was just reminded that both Mike Garske (who did the presentation for you guys) and Luke and Mike's sergeant--Jon Mattson--have been to DA conferences. In fact, you may recall Jon came to San Francisco kick off. Jon actually reminded me of all this. So, yes, I think you can say pretty clearly that the local shift to demand-focused approach (which eventually led to this op) was heavily influenced by DA's leadership.
