Subject: Adnymanthanha meeting request

I am writing to you on behalf of Adnyamathanha woman Regina McKenzie and several of her family who have asked me to request a meeting with the First Minister of Scotland to discuss plans for a shipment of radioactive waste to be sent to Australia and sited at the Australian Government's proposed National Radioactive Waste Management Facility.

The Adnyamathanha women plan to travel to Scotland in our summer this year and have asked firstly, if a meeting is possible and secondly, when would be the most suitable time?

The Adnyamathanha are an Indigenous Australian<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Indigenous_Australian> people from the Flinders Ranges in South Australia. They have recently met with South Australian Premier Jay Weatherill who has written to Australian Prime Minister Malcolm Turnbull about their concerns on this issue.

Any meeting could be private or public and in any suitable venue.

I appreciate the time constraints for planning such a meeting could be difficult but I would like to, from my perspective, emphasise the importance of this issue to these women and the potential cultural threat to their country that they are willing to travel across the world to speak to people about it.

I hope that this can be given your consideration.

Regards
