RE: President Trump's Comments Regarding West Virginia and Covid-19

Dear Senator Manchin:

At a press conference held today, March 17th, 2020, the President of the United States, Donald Trump, made alarming comments about West Virginia and the Covid-19 outbreak. The President stated that because West Virginia has no positive Covid-19 cases, that there will be "no need in West Virginia" for field hospitals and other federal resources. The President continued by saying that West Virginia will be treated differently than states like New York or California that have thus far detected several cases of the coronavirus.

The President was commenting on the lack of positive tests in West Virginia – which is a direct result of the failure of the federal government. The federal government rationed the tests and now the people of West Virginia are put at a severe risk. Further, with these reckless comments, the President has strongly signaled that West Virginia will now be at the "end of the line" when it comes to vital government resources and assistance during this unprecedented public health crisis.

We urge each of you to strongly oppose the President's comments regarding providing aid to West Virginia, and further, to work to make sure Federal resources will be available to West Virginia when they are needed. These resources are needed now.

As you have proven time and time again, we know you have West Virginia's best interests at heart and will stand up for our entire state during this time of crisis.

Sincerely,

W. Kent Carper
