

From: Lindsay Cole [REDACTED]
Subject: Re: [EANAB] resignation
Date: 29 April 2020 at 18:40
To: christophe miremont [REDACTED]
Cc: Edinburgh Noise Management Board Member [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Dear Christophe,

Thank you for your email this afternoon and it is with some sadness that I accept your resignation.

Many will agree with me when I say you have been dogged in your pursuit of accurate noise data and modelling, and arguing about its subsequent interpretation. In this, you have always produced interesting and thought provoking presentations that invariably got everyone around the table thinking. Some agreed with your viewpoint, others did not - but all were universally impressed by your effort and resilience.

However, what I do find a pity is that you seem to believe so little has been achieved. I would encourage everyone to look back to 2017, when there genuinely was little involvement or engagement with the airport. One only has to compare then to now to acknowledge just how far we have come in our stakeholder position within the airport along with our small but undoubtedly influential role in EAL's negotiations with the CAA.

Choosing resignation is, of course, a decision for any dissatisfied party to make. I know you will stand by your guns and wish you all the best in finding a way to continue to make an impact.

Very best of wishes,

Lindsay

On Wed, Apr 29, 2020 at 3:17 PM christophe miremont [REDACTED] wrote:
Dear EANAB,

I am writing to you to inform you that I am resigning from the board, effective immediately.

I have come to the conclusion that my energy will be better spent addressing the impact of aircraft noise on our communities from outside the board.

A few years down the line and EANAB does not even know what the actual noise landscape is for EDI. Worst of all it seems to be satisfied with this state of affairs.

In my opinion, giving legitimacy to hollow discussions on aircraft noise is now more harmful than helpful to our communities

It was a pleasure working with some of you.

All the best,

Christophe

--

You received this message because you are subscribed to the Google Groups "Edinburgh Airport Noise Advisory Board" group.

To unsubscribe from this group and stop receiving emails from it, send an email to [REDACTED]

To view this discussion on the web, visit [REDACTED]

--

[REDACTED]