About the Texas Relocation Report

The Texas Relocation Report is based on data from the National Association of Realtors 2012 Relocation Report and the U-Haul 2012 Relocation Report. The report analyzes county relocation data for the 44 largest demographic areas in Texas. The Texas Association of Realtors distributes insights about the Texas housing market each month, including quarterly market statistics, trends among home buyers and sellers, luxury home sales, international trends, and more. To view the Texas Relocation Report in its entirety, visit TexasRealEstate.com.

About the Texas Association of REALTORS®

With more than 80,000 members, the Texas Association of REALTORS® is a professional membership organization that represents all aspects of real estate in Texas. We advocate on behalf of Texas REALTORS® and private-property owners to keep homeownership affordable, protect private-property rights, and promote public policies that benefit homeowners. Executive Summary

The 2013 Texas Relocation Report showed that Texas is a national leader in relocation activity and a sought-after location for households moving out of state.

According to the report, Texas experienced a net gain of households with 10,326 more households moving to Texas from out of state than Texas households moving out of state. Bexar County experienced the largest net inflow in Texas and the fourth-largest net inflow of households in the U.S., with six other Texas counties ranking within the top 20.

Harris County is the most mobile county in Texas, ranking No. 1 in Texas and No. 3 nationally for the largest inflow of households. Dallas and Tarrant counties are the second and third-most mobile Texas counties, ranking No. 7 and No. 16 nationally for the largest inflow of households.

Harris County is also the top county in Texas and third-largest county nationally for outflow of households. Dallas and Tarrant counties have the second and third-largest outflow of households statewide and ranked No. 6 and No. 19 nationally.

In April 2013, U-Haul named Texas the No. 2 growth state for 2012 as well as Houston as the nation's top destination city and Austin as the third-most city for growth in its 2012 Relocation Report.

Other key statistics from the report include:

- Harris and Tarrant Counties posted net gains in household inflow. Dallas County experienced the highest net loss in households statewide.
- Williamson County garnered the highest net inflow of households from out of state, followed by Montgomery County and Bell County.
- San Patricio County experienced the highest net loss of households to other states, followed by Ector County and Midland County.
